Ph.D. programs require completion of a master's thesis.). The thesis track student will not take the graduate comprehensive examination.

This option prepares people for professional jobs by equipping them with knowledge of and providing them with an appreciation for the research process, so they can be a consumer of research. Students are required to complete an internship in their field of interest. The non-thesis track student will also take the graduate comprehensive examination.

Students may choose one of the two areas of emphasis:

Coaching

Exercise Science

The Master in Social Work derives the program's objectives in accordance with the Council on Social Work Education Educational Policy Handbook. Students will be able to:

Social workers understand the value base of the profession and its ethical standards, as well as relevant laws and regulations that may impact practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels.

Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice.

Social workers understand how diversity and difference characterize and shape the human experience and are critical to the formation of identity.

Social workers understand that every person regardless of position in society has fundamental human rights such as freedom, safety, privacy, an adequate standard of living, health care, and education.

Social workers understand quantitative and qualitative research methods and their respective roles in advancing a science of social work and in evaluating their practice
