

he began to walk away.

Logan's brain was about to explode with a vast amount of new information. It was a different life since he ran away to this base camp. Now, he had a father who worked under the government and now is going against these important people in their society. It took him a while to break from his thoughts. When he realized that Roy was gone, he began to follow his footprints. Just as he was about to lose track, he heard a loud gunshot. He walked towards the sound and found Roy with a bullet stuck on the back of his head.

As Logan found the dead body, his leg just gave out. This was too much for him to handle. He learned so many things in such a short amount of time, and things were different when it involved death. Just then, he heard footsteps coming toward his way.
